Seeing is All that is Necessary

The WIGWARM Garage is entirely satisfactory, and one of my neighbors was so favorably impressed by it that he borrowed my catalogue and not only ordered a Garage (18 x 18 ft. hip roof style for two cars), but also a cottage and a portable Poultry House for himself.

The fact that the Garage itself sold another is the best recommendation I can give you.

Yours very truly, WM. H. BROOKS,
November, 5, 1906. Philadelphia, Pa.

All prices include floor, incline run to doors, bumper, windows, hoods or blinds to the same, paneled or glass doors with mortised locks with duplicate keys and painted three coats, any color you wish.

Interior Fittings. Staining or oiling the interior woodwork, 10 x 12 ft., $5.00; 12 x 18 ft., $8.00; 12 x 24 ft., $10.00; 18 x 18 ft. $14.00; 18 x 24 ft. $16.00. Work bench, 2 Cupboards, and two robe racks for all except the 18-foot wide Garage, $10.00; 18-foot wide, $25.00. Chauffeur's quarters if desired at a small cost.

Morgan Construction Co., Worcester, Mass. Nov. 7, 1906.

The WIGWARM Garage has been entirely satisfactory, and is a good piece of work in every way.

The portable cottage of your make is in as good condition as when purchased in 1902.

Yours very truly, PAUL B. MORGAN.

Wigwarm Gable Roof Garage

WIGWARM COTTAGES

The WIGWARM Portables are a "Howling Success;" while we have lived in them there have been two earthquakes, a cyclone and the blowing up of Portsmouth Harbor, only three miles away, two terrific thunder storms and three easterly storms of three days each, and the houses have stood these tremendous tests most admirably. My carpenter, though inclined to be professionally critical, had to acknowledge that they were well and honestly built.

Very truly, B. G. Taylor,
Eliot, Maine, Sept. 4, 1905. (New York City)

Agreeable Surprise

111 Broadway, New York City, August 27, 1906.

The WIGWARM cottage has been a most agreeable surprise to me in every way. I knew that they were good, but did not realize how very practical and well made they were. If any one wants to ask any questions I should be pleased to answer them.

Very truly yours, CLARENCE ROBINSON.

Perfectly Satisfactory

Allcock Manufacturing Co., Ossining-on-Hudson, N. Y., November 2, 1905.

The WIGWARM Houses purchased of you last summer were perfectly satisfactory, easy to erect and of good appearance. I like them better than any portable houses I have seen.

Yours truly, FRANKLIN BRANDRETH.
